

California Area Office Indian Health Service Users

California has a diverse population of American Indians/Alaska Natives (AIAN). There are 109 federally recognized Tribes in California and approximately 40 unrecognized Tribes seeking recognition. Additionally, there are members of federally recognized Tribes located outside of California who reside here due to various historical federal policies, such as the relocation movement. The Indian Health Service (IHS) restricts services to members of federally recognized Tribes, except in California where descendants of Indians residing in California in 1852 are also eligible for health services provided by IHS-funded facilities. California has 32 Tribal Health Programs owned and operated by California Indian Tribes and 8 Urban Indian Health Programs serving urban areas. The urban data is reported through a separate mechanism and not included in the official California IHS User Population reports.

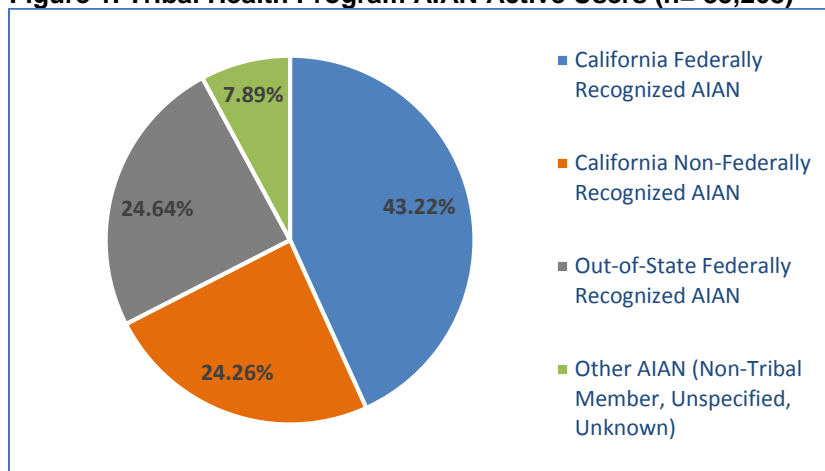

In this document, 'active user' refers to an AIAN patient living in a community of residence assigned to a specific Tribal Health Program who has had at least 1 visit in the last three years, and includes data through May 31st, 2018. See Table 1 and Figure 1.

Table 1. Tribal Health Program Active Users, 2018

AIAN Category	Total	Percent
AIAN Category	85,268	40.3%
California Federally Recognized AIAN	38,880	17.4%
California Non-Federally Recognized AIAN	20,677	9.8%
Out-of-State Federally Recognized AIAN	21,012	9.9%
Other AIAN (Non-Tribal Member, Unspecified, Unknown)	6,699	3.2%
Non-AIAN	126,335	59.7%

Overall, the data from Table.1, show that 40% (n=85,268) of health program users are AIAN, while 60% (n=126,335) are non-AIAN.

Based on Figure. 1 among the 85,268 AIAN Tribal Health Program users, the majority about 67% of them are California AIAN from federally and non-federally recognized Tribes. Nearly, 25% are from out-of-state federally recognized Tribes.

Table 2 on the following page shows active user data for individual Tribal Health Programs. Northern Valley Indian Health, Inc., serves the most patients, with 24,143 patients having attended at least one medical visit in the last three years, through May 2018.
