

REQUIRED FACE COVERING WHILE USING PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

COVID-19 UPDATE

Effective February 2, 2021, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention is requiring all individuals to wear a face covering while on all public transportation across the United States. A face covering should completely cover the mouth and nose.

FACE COVERINGS MUST BE WORN ON:

- Buses
- Airplanes
- Ferries
- Trains
- Subways
- Taxis
- Ride-shares (Uber, Lyft, etc.)

Face coverings must also be worn while waiting for and getting on or off transportation at airports, subway stations, bus stops, train stations, etc.

EXCEPTIONS INCLUDE:

- While eating or drinking.
- Children under the age of two.
- To verify one's identity.
- Disabled persons who are not able to wear a face covering safely.
- Workers whose duties cannot be performed safely with a face covering.
- In private transportation for personal, non-commercial use.

Refusing to wear a mask may result in being refused transportation service or being asked to disembark at the earliest, safest opportunity.

Evidence shows that this step will help lower the transmission of COVID-19.

Thank you for doing your part to protect yourselves, your families, your communities, and the country.
